Announcement of the Otfried Siegmann Award 2025 of the GVMS-DVG

The German Veterinary Medical Society (GVMS-DVG) announces the "Otfried Siegmann Award 2025 of the GVMS-DVG".

The prize is intended to honour scientists up to the age of 40 whose scientific publications identify them as highly qualified young scientists.

The Otfried Siegmann Award of the GVMS-DVG is endowed with 10,000.00 € and was donated by ANICON® (www.anicon.eu). Of the endowment, half goes to the award winner and half to the respective scientific institution.

The prize is not divisible.

The prize is awarded for work in veterinary medicine and closely related fields that deal with questions of infectious medicine in farm animals, including bees and farm fish, and that has already been accepted for publication or has already been published.

Proposals and applications can be submitted to the

Office of the GVMS-DVG
(Geschäftsstelle der DVG)
An der Alten Post 2
35390 Giessen
Germany

preferably by e-mail: stiftungen@dvg.de

The following documents must be attached:

1. curriculum vitae with professional background and list of publications of the candidate
2. the publication proposed for the award

A board of trustees decides on the awarding of the prize.

The guidelines for awarding the prize can be requested from the GVMS-DVG office and are available online: www.dvg.de.

Any legal recourse is excluded.

The deadline for submitting proposals is May 31, 2025.

The award is to be presented during a congress of the GMVS-DVG.
